

Patio doors/windows are a large element which can greatly affect the appearance of a dwelling but its visual impact can be reduced by placing it in a lower building attached to the main dwelling.

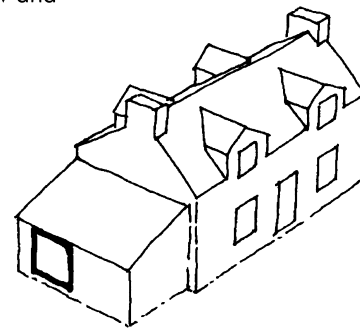

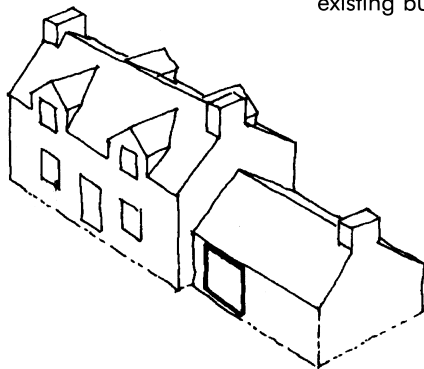

In gable

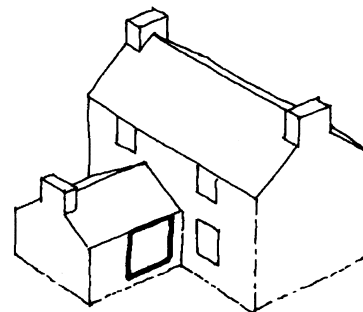

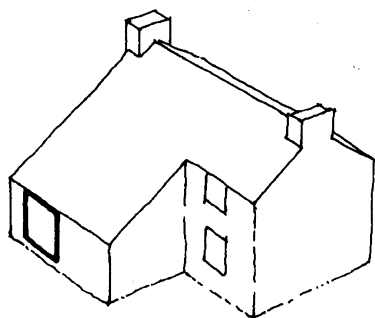

Destroys symmetry

Too dominant in small cottages

Locate in rear or side of both new and existing buildings

Use under single storey eaves and not in two storey high walls

Patio door/window should be located on a southern or western wall for optimum solar gain